Chrome Tappet Block Cover Sets for Evolution Big Twin Models

These unique covers are available in stamped steel and die-cast versions that fit over the Original Equipment tappet blocks like a second layer of skin, maintaining the stock appearance. Each cover has a hidden slot in the back permitting it to be installed without removing your pushrods. Just lift the pushrod tube covers and slip them on. They're held in place with silicone adhesive which is provided. Four 12-point chrome screws are included to replace the four zinc-plated Original Equipment screws which protrude slightly thru the holes in the fronts of the covers.
